

Project Final Report - Robert L.

During the time working on stock sensei, I contributed to 3 main features; The learning page, the crypto news bar, and the quiz functionality. The learning page was a joint effort between myself and jose, and I did all of the CSS and the majority of the finnhub backend functionality for the newsbar that was then utilized on that page (as well as any reformatting necessary, which included solving issues with partials). The quiz functionality took up the majority of my time during the last sprint, and used only javascript and ejs.
